

Date: 17 December 2020

Job Description Test Technician III

JOB REQUIREMENT SUMMARY: Serves as a point of contact on the production floor for Production Supervisor and lower-level technicians with regards to operations associated with then integration and testing of production hardware.

- As part of the production team, you will interface with the Manufacturing Engineer, Quality Assurance Manager, and other production team members when deemed necessary by Production Supervisor regarding scheduling and performing component/ System test.
- Provide oversight and problem-solving skills required to ensure the production rest team meets its monthly and weekly shipment goals. Participate in production status meetings to address variances in forecasted shipments or changes to the production teams' goals. Make recommendation to the production supervisor when there are issues regarding test and measurement activities that may affect the teams target goals.
- Periodically brief the production supervisor and manufacturing engineer on any issue's relation to training, tools, test equipment and documentation, that are affecting sales order completion. Provide recommendations for correction action.
- Participate in the indoctrination and training of temporary and permanent technician personnel, when directed by the Production Supervisor.
- Ensure integration and test process conform to released documentation. Provide input to production supervisor on production metrics that identify integration and test inefficiencies.
- Utilize this data and lean manufacturing principles to work with the production supervisor, Manufacturing Engineer and Quality assurance manager to increase integration and test throughout and reduce cost.
- Provide scheduled in -house maintenance checks and adjustments to equipment when required.
- Use superior experience in RF test and alignment techniques, to test and align RF products, and make ready fir weekly and monthly shipments and assist other technicians when needed.
- Keep the Production Supervisor informed of issues that affect technician's performance, jeopardize employee morale, and negatively affect safety or employee health and welfare.
- Coordinate the Production Supervisor over time activities as needed to complete assigned weekly and monthly shipment goals
- Performed other disuse as assigned.
- Treat all company employee with respect and dignity.
- Display a commitment to ethical business conduct and appropriate social behavior while representing Tampa Microwave on and off the premises.

QUALIFICATION:

- Minimum of 5 years of progression experience in the integration and test of complex digital/ microwave hardware.
- AS degree or military equivalent preferred
- Ability to lift test equipment and hardware up to 25 lbs. Some domestic travel may be required.
- U.S Citizenship or permanent residency required.